Fullstack Developer — 100% remote

Subject: Application — Fullstack Developer / React + Next.js + Node.js

APPLICATION TEXT

Hello wynwood tech Recruiting Team,

I am interested in the remote Fullstack Developer engagement. My strongest stack overlaps directly with the core of the requirement: JavaScript, React, Next.js, Node.js-style backend work, API integrations and authentication.

I have built database-backed Next.js products including a customer/admin portal, a contract-management platform with OAuth and document workflows, and a subscription-based membership product. My GitHub history also includes hands-on work around Auth0 and Sanity, although I would present those as experimentation rather than production client experience.

I am currently strengthening TypeScript and Playwright. I would rather state those levels accurately than overstate them in an ATS form, and I am comfortable completing a practical task that demonstrates where I am today.

My availability and exact capacity can be provided once the project start and contract model are confirmed.

Best regards,
Ryan Nyberg

ROLE-SPECIFIC PROOF POINTS

- JavaScript: strong working stack across current projects.
- React / Next.js: core application framework experience.
- API integrations / OAuth: demonstrated in contract-management and authentication work.
- Sanity / Auth0: hands-on GitHub exposure; not represented as deep production expertise.
